Shaping the Future of Communications, Energy, Commodities and Technology

Capital Resources ("CR") specializes in investing in emerging energy and mining companies, enterprise services, technology companies, and communications companies operating primarily in the U.S., Canada, Central and South America. We help shape the future of these emerging segments by investing in market-leading companies with world-class management teams. As a trusted advisor and partner, we look to build sustainable value in our portfolio companies through the strategic and operational guidance we provide management.

With offices in Las Vegas NV, Toronto Canada, CR currently manages over $500 million in capital. CR seeks to obtain significant equity positions in expansion stage companies poised for substantial growth. Although our preference is for expansion stage companies, we will opportunistically consider early-stage investments, recapitalizations and buy-outs.
